

Species: Antelope

Unit Group: 132 - 134, 245

Hunt Geometry ID: 31

Hunt ID: [946, 430, 482, 722, 634]

Access:

Good throughout this hunt unit group. Antelope can be found on private lands in several valleys, but these lands do not block access to public lands. Off-road vehicles are recommended when traveling away from main county roads.

Recommended Hunting Areas:

Antelope are found in all the valleys at low densities with higher concentrations in the valleys associated with alfalfa farming throughout this hunt unit group. Areas to look would be: White River Valley near the Kirch Wildlife Management Area, Coal, Garden, Sand Spring and Railroad Valleys. Alfalfa farms in White River Valley and Sand Springs Valley near Rachel can attract antelope during dry years. Antelope are usually concentrated around water during both the archery and rifle seasons.

Biologist Comments:

Please be aware that sections of Unit 132 and Unit 133 are in a wilderness area. Motorized equipment, mechanized transport, including wheeled game carriers and chainsaws, are prohibited in wilderness areas. Contact the U.S. Forest Service or Bureau of Land Management for more information on land use policies.
